"Sport in and around the Rocky Mountains" "Carefree Days in Newfoundland," etc., and the regular departments which latter are full of interest to fisherman and gunner, make up a very interesting early summer issue.

The Temperance and Moral Reform League's Generous Vote - Catching Promises Are Rather Shady Tactics.

In present day politics it has become quite a practice to go after a man and endeavor to besmirch that man's reputation when it is impossible to answer or refute his arguments. So it is in the present alleged "prohibition" campaign. The advocates of the proposed Liquor Act know perfectly well, and many of them are honest enough to admit it, that this measure will not and cannot bring about prohibition in Alberta or anything like it; the liquor interests and those opposed to the Act claim that the passing of such an Act would not improve conditions no matter from what viewpoint the matter is considered and they have been able to present in clear and convincing manner a host of arguments against the Act which cannot be refuted.

And thus it comes about that today we find many advocates of the proposed Act stooping to one of the most objectionable tactics of the political game—slandering their opponents when they cannot refute their arguments. And the very fact that they have adopted such methods is the best proof in the world that the Liquor Act is not worth the paper it is written on.

The Liquor Act would cost just as much to enforce as the present Ordinance costs—but it makes no provision for any expenditure for enforcement.

The Liquor Act destroys all the machinery now in existence for the control of the liquor business—but it does not allow of the appointment of any officer but vendors No License Board. No Commissioners. No Inspectors. Just vendors, and their business is to sell and distribute booze, not to curtail its use.

Under the Liquor License Ordinance, relatives or employers can get a person interdicted who is not able to control his appetite. Under the proposed Act this is impossible. Worse than that, every person in the Province who is now interdicted could legally have in his home quite a large quantity of booze.

Think this over well. The Alberta Temperance and Moral Reform League scoffs at this feature of the Act, but they always scoff at facts which cannot be answered otherwise.

The League kept copies of the Act out of sight until signatures were secured to their petitions. Even now they are taking no pains to circulate copies of their Act.

Electors who point out the above discrepancies in the Act have been told to "never mind the weaknesses of the measure; it is not as good as it should be; it will not even give absolute prohibition; but it is a start, and once it is passed we can have it amended any time we want to."

To the writer, such a promise seems to be the rankiest kind of bribery and corruption. It is not so very long since the League set out to bring on a local option campaign in central Alberta. After going along for a time they were convinced that the present law was unworkable in "that" respect. What did they do? Did they have the law amended? Not much. The law was not amended and the vote never was taken.

AND IF THE TEMPERANCE AND MORAL REFORM LEAGUE WERE UNABLE TO HAVE THE LAW SO AMENDED AS TO ENABLE THEM TO BRING ON A LOCAL OPTION CAMPAIGN IN CENTRAL ALBERTA, HOW IN THE NAME OF ALL THAT IS HONEST CAN THEY SECURE THE AMENDMENT OF THE PROPOSED LIQUOR ACT AFTER IT HAS BEEN PASSED? Yet they unblushingly assure the doubtful voter that they will have the Liquor Act amended after it becomes law and will then correct all its weaknesses. That identical promise has been made to the writer time and again during this campaign.

When temperance people try to secure votes by promising something which they have no guarantee that they can ever deliver, they are acting under false pretenses just as much as the man who obtains goods from the store by promising payment when he knows he can never pay. And when the advocates of the Liquor Act stoop to such abominable tactics it is very conclusive proof that their Act is not what it is represented to be and is something which in their own best interests every elector in the Province should vote against on July 21.

Electors who are in doubt, who have not yet made up their minds just how to vote, should ponder well this fact: THAT IF THE LIQUOR ACT WAS LIKELY TO BE AS BENEFICIAL FOR ALBERTA AS THE LEAGUE CLAIMS IT WOULD BE, THEN THEY WOULD MAKE THE PROVISIONS OF THE ACT ITSELF THE PIVOT OF THEIR CAMPAIGN AND WOULD STAND OR FALL ON ITS MERITS INSTEAD OF EVADING DISCUSSION OF THE ACT AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE—AND THEY WOULD AT LEAST HAVE GIVEN YOU A COPY OF THE ACT TO READ OVER BEFORE THEY ASKED ANYONE TO SIGN THEIR PETITIONS.

The only question before the electors now is "What will the Liquor Act do for Alberta?" Get a copy of The Act, and you will be astonished at its provisions.
